

Domestic Violence Institute

December 4-6, 2007

Ramkota Inn
Sioux Falls, SD

Presented by:

South Dakota Department of Social Services
Victims' Services Program

Funded by:

U.S. Department of Justice

Domestic Violence Institute for Community Professionals

“Ending Violence in Our Lifetime”

We invite you to attend this year's program, addressing aspects of domestic violence intervention.

It is designed to help participants assess their community's current response, develop a strong inter-agency approach to intervention, and keep practitioners as well as community activists working together in positive ways.

Victim Advocates, Counselors, Social Workers, Nurses, Law Enforcement Officers, State's Attorneys, Judges, Probation and Court Service Officers, Correction Officers, Clergy, Child Care Providers and College Students are all encouraged to attend.

Please keep the following information in mind:

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS

Law Enforcement and Victim Advocates will be reimbursed for meals and mileage at state rate. You should pick up a reimbursement form at the registration desk. Your sleeping room for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be a direct bill to the Department of Social Services. The Department will not pay for other miscellaneous room charges so please take care of these charges at the time you check out of your room.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

This conference meets the mandatory training requirements for domestic violence training for Law Enforcement Officers as set forth in SDCL §23-3-39.4 and the requirements of SDCL §23-3-39.6 for Prosecutors. The SD Board of Counselor Examiners has approved the program for 13.75 contact hours and the SD Board of Social Workers has approved the program for 14.25 contact hours.

EVENT COORDINATORS

This program is sponsored by the SD Department of Social Services Victims' Services Program and made possible through grants from the U.S. Department of Justice. This event is coordinated by the SD Network Against Family Violence and Sexual Assault, Holly Jeschke. Questions may be directed to this office at 605-731-0041.

MISCELLANEOUS

Since meeting room temperatures are often difficult to accommodate everyone's preference, we recommend you dress in layers so you can adjust your comfort to the room. Please be conscious of your cell phone or beeper; either put it on vibrate or turn it off.

LUNDY BANCROFT

Bancroft has been working to end violence against women for over 15 years. He is the author of three books on domestic abuse, including When Dad Hurts Mom: Helping Children Heal the Wounds of Witnessing Abuse; Why Does He Do That?: Inside the Minds of Angry and Controlling Men, and The Batterer as Parent: Addressing the Impact of Domestic Violence on Family Dynamics. He specializes in counseling and legal interventions for abusive men, having been involved in over 2,000 cases, and has worked with teen boys who have been exposed to domestic violence. He has also served extensively as a custody evaluator, child abuse investigator, and expert witness in domestic violence and child abuse cases. Lundy currently devotes the bulk of his energy to educating professionals and the general public on men who abuse women and their impact on children. He appears across the U.S. as a presenter for court personnel, child protection workers, therapists, law enforcement officials, and other audiences.

JUDGE MARK BARNETT

Mark Barnett was a prosecutor for 27 years, including service as the Hughes County States Attorney, and three elected terms as Attorney General for South Dakota. As a part of that work, he sponsored successful legislation creating both Victim's Rights, and Victim's Compensation. Additionally, General Barnett was active on countless other bills at session, teaming up with advocates to improve the fate of victims of crime. He also took on a variety of criminal cases involving domestic homicide as well as domestic aggravated assault. Throughout his career in law enforcement, he held to the rule that no perpetrator of such a crime would get any kind of plea bargain from his office, unless it was first approved by the victim, as a fair punishment for the crime. As a result of his work, victims of violent crime now have the right to stand up in court and be heard regarding all of the key parts of a court case. In short, he gave victims a voice in the courtroom. Barnett and his wife Deb adopted two baby boys from Korea, John (Sung Hyun Shin) and Jim (Joon Sung Lee) who are now ages 11 and 10. The Barnetts have sponsored two dozen other children in Korea and elsewhere. He has served on the board and as President of the Children's Home Foundation, which now includes the Children's Inn within its umbrella of services.

GORDON DECKER

Gordon Decker has been a law enforcement officer for 12 years and is currently employed with the Pennington Co. Sheriff's Office in Rapid City. Gordon has been assigned to many different divisions within the Pennington Co. Sheriff's Office. He started in civil and patrol, before moving to school liaison for the Douglas School System. During his three years at Douglas, Gordon worked closely with juvenile victims and offenders. He then moved to Investigations where he has been assigned for the past seven years working primarily sexual assault, computer crime, and domestic violence. Currently, he is the supervisor of the DV CARE (Domestic Violence Coordinated Action Response Enhancement and Enforcement) team, which is comprised of full time employees from the Pennington Co. Sheriff's Office, Rapid City Police Department and Working Against Violence, Inc. The DV CARE Team is a multidisciplinary team working in Pennington Co. to reduce Domestic Violence. Gordon earned his bachelor's degree from National American University in Applied Management. Gordon served 12 years with the Army National Guard, which included time in Iraq.

MARCOS GLASS

Detective Marcos Glass began his law enforcement career with the Rapid City Police Department in 1998. Glass has been assigned to various duties within the department to include Patrol, Traffic, and Criminal Investigations Divisions. In 2003, he was assigned to the Criminal Investigations to assist with property crimes via the internet and other crimes. Glass has conducted investigations into counterfeit U.S. money, fraudulent credit cards, bank scams, internet thefts, and child sex crimes through the use of computers. The Rapid City Police Department along with the Pennington Co. Sheriff's Office have teamed to handle Computer Crime Investigations. Both agency are members of the SD Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force.

DARCY LASSEGARD

Darcy has worked over 29 years with issues affecting the lives of women and children, particularly in areas of domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse as a victim advocate, therapist, law enforcement trainer, educator and supervisor. Darcy is currently employed at Volunteers of America - Dakotas as a social worker. She has also had an opportunity to be a team member of the training team of the SD Network Against Family Violence and Sexual Assault providing training statewide for the past six years. Her greatest joy and accomplishment is raising her 12 year old son.

FRED MAGNIVITO

Dr. Magnivito retired from the Fort Meade V.A. Medical Center in September 2003, with more than 20 years of service as staff psychologist. Since October 2003, Dr. Magnivito has been employed as the in-house psychologist for the Pennington Co. Sheriff's Office, Rapid City Police Department, Division of Criminal Investigation and the Rapid City Fire Department. As the in-house psychologist for these agencies, he is on-call 24/7. He also provides specialized stress management services to the Emergency Services Communication Center 911 dispatchers as well as pre-employment psychological evaluations. He is an instructor for the 911 Basic Certification Course at the Law Enforcement Academy in Pierre. He is a member of the Katharsis Critical Incident Stress Management Team based in Rapid City. In February 2002, he spent a week in NYC as a member of the Katharsis team to provide critical incident stress debriefings to the NYC Police Department in the aftermath of the 9-11 terrorist attack. He is a member of the American Psychological Association, SD Psychological Association, Psychological Services Section of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation, the American Society of Clinical Hypnosis and the American Society of Suicidology. He holds faculty positions with the USD School of Medicine and the SD Law Enforcement Training Center in Pierre.

LISA THOMPSON

Ms. Lisa Thompson is a member of the Lower Brule Lakota Tribe. Thompson has worked in the field of domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse for over 15 years. She has been a strong advocate for women and children on the Crow Creek Indian Reservation in South Dakota and is the executive director for Wiconi Wawokiya, Inc. (Helping Families). The organization operates two domestic violence shelters, one on Crow Creek and the other in Sioux Falls, SD, a child advocacy center, Good Woman Resource Center (Winyan Was'te Center) and a women's transitional housing project which has currently implemented on-site rape exams for victims of rape. Thompson was appointed in 2002 by the Governor to the SD CASA Commission which expires in 2009 and served as the co-chair of the SD Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault from 1999 to 2001. Currently, she serves as the president of the Native American Children Alliance, a group of tribes throughout the U.S. providing services to children who are victims of abuse. Thompson has three children and five grandchildren.

OLGA TRUJILLO, JD

Olga is a consultant and attorney, who after nearly 13 years with the U.S. Department of Justice started her own consulting business to work on domestic violence, child abuse and sexual assault issues. As a consultant, Olga has worked with most national organizations addressing the issues of violence against women and children. A nationally sought speaker, Olga has appeared in several videos, including "Cut It Out" a training video on domestic violence focusing on hair stylists and is featured in the video "A Survivor's Story" a training video based on her experience and life presentation. She had an article published in "The Resource" by the National Sexual Violence Resource Center on "Living Dissociative Identity Disorder" which was reprinted in the Sept/Oct issue of the Sexual Assault Reporter. Olga recently received the Bud Cramer Leadership Award given by National Children's Alliance for her work to help professionals around the country better understand the impact of violence on children. The Sunshine Lady Foundation recently awarded Olga with one of its Peace Awards for her work for battered women and their children. Olga is a survivor, who has undertaken a journey to understand the impact violence, has had on her life - from the domestic violence she witnessed as a child to the abuse she suffered as a child to the rapes she endured as an adult. Through her experience, she offers insight into what it means to be a survivor, what individuals can do to help families, ways to prevent further victimization and what we all do to help survivors. Latina Magazine featured Olga in its August 2006 issue for her survival and her work on these issues.

ALLISON TURKEL

Turkel is a Senior Attorney at the National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse. Turkel trains child abuse professionals across the country on the investigation and prosecution of child abuse, computer facilitated crimes against children and maltreatment cases as well as on domestic violence and juvenile issues. She also provides technical assistance to prosecutors, law enforcement, child protection workers, social workers and other engaged in the investigation and prosecution of these cases. She researches and writes on a variety of issues. Turkel is the Chief of Training for both centers. Prior to coming to the National Center, she served as an Assistant District Attorney in the Manhattan District Attorney's office for nine and a half years. She handled a variety of felony cases including narcotics, child physical and sexual abuse cases, serious felonies and homicides. She then was an Assistant State's Attorney in McLean County, Illinois State's Attorney's Office for a year and a half, where she prosecuted felony domestic violence cases. In both positions she was involved in the training of prosecutors, police officers, social services providers, et al. Turkel has taught on the college level and graduated from Temple University School of Law in 1987. She is a member of the PA, IL and NY Bar. Prior to becoming an Assistant District Attorney, she was a police officer for eight years, serving as the Lieutenant in charge of in-house training for five years. She was responsible for organizing and planning yearly in-service training, bi-annual firearms re-qualification and training, roll-call training and critical incident assessments as well as providing training on firearms, survival tactics and law.

LT. MARK WYNN

Lt. Wynn is a survivor and devoted to ending family violence as a police officer, detective, educator, program supervisor, consultant and advisor.
